The Australian Brontë Association meets approximately every two months. At each normal meeting a talk is given on some aspect of the Brontë's life and works or the world in which they lived.

The ABA is independent of the (UK) Brontë Society but it grew out of a group of Australian members of the Brontë Society and we still maintain strong links with the parent body. The Australian Representative of the Brontë Society is a member of the Australian Brontë Association.
